Work Plan 2025-2026

Our second Work Plan 2025-2026 is approved and published! Together with two consultations with EU children, there will be study and peer visits to help our young members connect and deepen their skills and knowledge. Based on children's input and aligned with the European Commission's priorities, the four topics covered will be:

- Equal opportunities and social inclusion
- Mental health and well-being
- Online safety
- Climate action

Meet our New Commissioner

We have a new European Commissioner – Glenn Micallef – who will work on children's rights, including child participation. He is the youngest Commissioner of the College, the youngest ever Culture Commissioner, the first Intergenerational Fairness Commissioner and the first young Youth Commissioner ever.

Advisory Board: Welcome and Bye-bye

The 5th Advisory Board meeting held on 2 December in Brussels welcomed new child members and said bye-bye to seven others. It was a busy day! Reviewing and finetuning the new Work Plan, and a special ceremony to recognise the contributions of those members leaving, while hearing from those joining about their motivations and expectations.

MEMBER NEWS

Eva's Survey on Voting at 16

Young Spanish Advisory Board member Eva ran a survey to find out what children and adults around her thought about voting for 16-year-olds. This is a great example of how children can lead and bring the voices of others forward on topics that matter. Eva presented the results of her survey at the December Board meeting.

WE WERE THERE

Drupal@Europa – October 2024

A big meeting with the people who build and run EU websites on Drupal technology – like us! We spoke about co-creating with children, what children want from a website and heard from some other youth-focused websites.

Meeting with new judges – November 2024

We spoke about the rights of the child and the Platform to 12 newly appointed Dutch judges who visited EU institutions in Brussels. We told them how important it is to create a safe space for children who want to share their views.

Workshop with Interpares on safeguarding – November 2024

Our safeguarding officers ran a workshop for members of parliament from different countries about child safeguarding. They talked about the rules in the Platform and how we make sure that our members are safe.
